Five Great Places To Get Technical Tests (free):

1. <http://www.pskills.org/>
2. <https://www.wiziq.com/>
3. <https://www.javatpoint.com>
4. <https://devskiller.com/coding-tests-category/netc/>
5. <https://www.interviewmocha.com/pre-employment-testing/all-tests>

And Why They're Great:

1. Programming Skills is a site that provides different kinds of tests covering most languages. Basic tests are provided free of charge and are online.
2. In WizIQ just look under Tests and Assements or search for the language you are looking for, and you will find plenty of free tests.
3. As the name Javatpoint says this site is mainly for Java tests.
4. And Devskiller is for .Net and only a sample test but it is a good test of basic .Net skills.
5. Interviewmocha covers a whole range of different subjects but still has some good free sample tests for programmers (mainly at entry or junior level).
